My word is my bond
Tregaron Restaurant and Bar, London
15 March, 22 March and 5 April

LATE FRIDAY EVENING, I found myself standing behind the London Stock Exchange, watching my friend. She was peering at her phone, muttering to herself. "I wonder if he's coming?"

I called her over. "Don't worry!" I said, "I think he'll be here soon." She looked at me奇怪地ly, "How do you know?" I shrugged, "I just have a feeling," and my friend nodded in agreement.

During the evening, we were joined by a group of artists who had heard about the event and wanted to see the work we were presenting. We talked for hours, discussing our ideas and plans for the future. It was a great opportunity to connect with other creatives and share our passion for art.
